LIFE MADE RICHER

¶ A WISE MAN once attributed the length of his life to the care with which he had chosen his hobbies. Looking back through the vista of years he could see that they had made life always worth living by keeping alive the precious spirit of youth.

¶ MAY we suggest to you the advantage of print collecting as a hobby, and of THE PRINT-COLLECTOR'S QUARTERLY as a practical and inexpensive guide to the captivating world of prints?

¶ EACH number of The Quarterly contains about forty full-page illustrations and one hundred pages of text, reproduced and printed with a perfection that makes the magazine a typographical as well as an artistic triumph. Your subscription for one year, therefore, would bring you between 150 and 200 prints, at the rate of only a little more than a cent apiece besides 400 pages of extremely interesting text.

¶ EDITORIAL plans for The Print-Collector's Quarterly for 1915 are unusually promising. Among the articles that will appear are "Van Dyck: His Original Etchings," by Arthur M. Hind, of the British Museum; "William Blake and His Water-Color Drawings in the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston," by Elisabeth Luther Cary; "German Wood Cuts of the Fifteenth Century," by Emil H. Richter; "Rembrandt's Amsterdam," by Frits Lugt; "A Collection of Musicians' Portraits," by Gustav Kobbé; "John LaFarge, Illustrator," by Frank Weitenkampf; "Dante Gabriel Rossetti as an Illustrator," by Elisabeth Luther Cary; "Hollar's London," by Edward R. Smith; "Claude Mellan (1598-1688)," by Louis R. Metcalfe; "Gavarni," by Robert J. Wickenden.

A Special Offer to Print-lovers

¶ WE have just published an unusually readable and authoritative book on "Prints" by Emil H. Richter, Associate Curator of Prints in The Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. This book tells how the various kinds of prints are made, and describes the development of the art in different countries. It is handsomely printed and bound, and contains about 70 full-page reproductions of famous pictures.

¶ THE price of this volume is $2.00, which is also the price of a year's subscription to The Quarterly. But to new subscribers we are making a special combined price of only $3.00.

¶ MAY we suggest that you send your remittance ($3.00 for the magazine and book, or $2.00 for either alone), with full mailing instructions, to The Print-Collector's Quarterly, 4 Park Street, Boston, now, so that your subscription may begin with the first number of the year?
